

PRESS RELEASE

NATIONAL QUALIFICATIONS FOR REPROTEC

Durham based resin flooring contractors, Reprotec is delighted to announce it has recently been awarded CHAS and Construction Line pre-qualification status - demonstrating its commitment to sound health and safety practice.

CHAS stands for the Contractors Health and Safety Assessment Scheme and is the nationally recognised health and safety pre-qualification system. <http://www.chas.gov.uk/>

Constructionline is a certified pre-qualification database, used by over 60% of local authorities to reduce duplication and save time and money by encouraging organisations to use a single source for pre-qualification. <http://www.constructionline.co.uk>

With over twenty years experience as an in situ flooring contractor Reprotec offer a diverse range of surface protection services, operating nationally from the company's Northeast base.

Reprotect is able to pass on to its clients the benefit of its extensive expertise within the resin flooring, screeding and surface protection industry, with work undertaken by its trained and qualified operatives.
